

Greetings!

The lessons of quarantine are coming in “Loud & Clear,” but that doesn’t mean they’re easy to hear. This season has been one long stress test - and it’s revealed cracks in our lives, our organizations, our communities, and our world. Pressure has a way of doing that.

Exposed and widened by the stress of the season, the cracks may be pointing to something that was already inside of us: a lie that doesn’t belong there and is undermining our lives.

This weekend we’ll call out the lie, replace it with the truth, and find real freedom in this “Loud & Clear” lesson.

See you Sunday - either online or in person!

CCC Small Groups are Back!

Church is about community - and there's no better way to experience that community than being a part of a small group. Our groups meet throughout the week - either at the church, at members' homes (socially distant, of course...), or virtually/online - and are the perfect place to Connect, Grow and Serve with others who seek to "Live Fully."

For info about available groups - and to sign up for one when you're ready to jump in - click HERE to go to the Small Groups web page. Join us - you'll be glad you did!!
