

Greetings!

Perhaps the most "Loud and Clear" lesson from quarantine has been one that God has been whispering to us from the beginning (literally from THE beginning...): we were made to live life in community with others. Community brings wholeness and purpose, and - perhaps most importantly - it encourages us to take our eyes off ourselves and our problems and to focus on loving and serving others.

This weekend, as the fall season of "reconnection" begins, let's remember together how important it is to be just that - together.
